[redacted], and SA [redacted] to meet with [redacted]

with [redacted] the British National Party and their ties to the British National Party in the United Kingdom.

[redacted] advised the British National Party is a semi-political organization operating in England. The organization is racist, anti-immigration and follows the belief of Neo-Nazi groups. Some members of the BNP have been convicted for criminal activity, including threats and the use of explosives. Any relationship with terrorist groups in the UK would be with that of the loyalist movement. The Loyalist movement can best be described as pro-British and anti-Republican (IRA).

b7D
b7E

[redacted] advised the BNP has been relatively unsuccessful in winning political seats. Although their following appears to be growing. [redacted]
